

Press Release

Date: October 2, 2008

Contact: IT2 Jonathan Goulet
(617) 223 3083
jonathan.m.goulet@uscg.mil

USCGC Seneca escorting USS Intrepid. (U.S. Coast Guard photo/Jonathan Goulet)

Coast Guard Cutter Escorts Historical Museum USS Intrepid

New York, NY – October 2, 2008, Coast Guard Cutter Seneca escorted the USS Intrepid (Retired) back to her home pier in Manhattan, NY. USCGC Seneca met the Intrepid near her dockside berth in Staten Island and led the escort flotilla of 38 vessels to the 86th Street pier.

The flotilla of vessels steamed passed the Statue of Liberty, and then came to all stop to render honors by Ground Zero.

Intrepid, an Essex class aircraft carrier, was undergoing a two year refurbishment project in Staten Island, NY.

Coast Guard Cutter Seneca is a 270 foot cutter home ported out of Boston, MA with a crew of 100 Guardians.

U.S. Coast Guard: Saving Lives Since 1790